To Whom It May Concern:

This is a recommendation for Jeff Oliver.

I have been taping weddings as a videographer for sixteen years, and although my company now includes production of television shows and marketing pieces, nothing is live and therefore not as intense as wedding coverage.

My most recent wedding taping with Jeff proved to be smooth and enjoyable as expected. The reason why I work with Jeff is because he embraces the event and, like me, and will do much more than required. As you may know when orchestrating the most important day in the life for a bride, groom, and their families there are always unexpected circumstances that arise. It takes somebody with passion and experience to make the foreseeable problems invisible to the wedding experience, and Jeff proves to excel at this time after time.

Moreover, Jeff adds to the flow of the evening because he is very intuitive and talented enough to lead without following. This skill proves time after time to be his strength, and therefore also an enjoyable experience for me as well. I have seen that Jeff is accomplished with years of audio technical sophistication and savvy, additionally his talents and charm guarantee the best possible unparalleled experience.

Sincerely Yours,

Robert Solari
