TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

As wedding videographers, we have had the good fortune to work with Jeff Oliver of A Universal Entertainment over the past few years. Jeff has that wonderful ability to make a party seem to happen effortlessly. Whatever needs to be done, Jeff's is right on top of it - whether it's announcing the many different names in a bridal party list or making sure all the guests are in their seats so the first course can be served on time. He's versatile, fun, entertaining and a real professional. What we appreciate most is that he always pays attention to the mood and energy of the party and never lets it lag or the music get so loud people can't hear themselves talk. And most importantly for us, he always keeps the other vendors apprised of what's coming up next so we won't be in the wrong place when the "once-in-a-lifetime" event happens.

Jeff Oliver of "A Universal Entertainment" will make any event an event to remember and a joy to attend.
